Fixed Income

Government Debt

Governments, just like individuals and companies, need to finance their operations. Government financing is satisfied in various ways and, more often than not, Governments need to supplement this with borrowing.

This borrowing is performed through the issuance of bonds to a public market. The Government takes on a debt obligation to the treasury investment community and makes a promise to return the funds on a specific date, making interest payments at periodic intervals until the debt is returned.

Extensive coverage

Tullett Prebon Information has a very wide coverage of global bonds and benchmarks. Below is an overview of the products Tullett Prebon Information provide to the market

- 2000+ Government Bonds and Bills
- 500+ Government Benchmark Bonds and Bills
- Country specific, and esoteric debt securities
- Expert knowledge on each of the markets priced
- Proprietary pricing model driven by unique market insight

TreasuryMarker (TMKR)

TPI's most comprehensive Government Bond pricing service covering all the major/developed markets. This includes benchmark and off-the-run bonds.

Emerging Markets

Covers global emerging market Government Bonds including European, Latin American and Asian emerging markets.

GIIPS

Standing for Greece, Italy, Ireland, Portugal and Spain, a specific GIIPS package is available for those clients interested in the "at risk" European Sovereigns.

Live Pricing

As with other asset classes, TPI provides access to live pricing for some of the less liquid markets such as India, the Philippines, Indonesia and South Africa.

US Specific

With the US market being the largest and most developed there are some products specific to the US such as STRIPS and When Issued Benchmarks.

Benchmarks

Benchmarks are selected, managed and priced for 35+ countries.

